I have an issue involving dumping treated seed corn that I'd like to talk to you or Mike about, if you have time to call. It was reported by two parties this morning, and it involves an ethanol plant that has done this in the past with post-digested waste meal, but these calls sound like it is unused treated seed corn in bulk dumped in at least three different locations near Mead, Ne.

We are glad to be back. Many of the emails were junk and could be deleted. My biggest task today is catching up on the dicamba work group emails that the states continued to work on while we were out.

Tim,

In the case of a business that is closed I would have Eric write a brief narrative to that effect and turn the case in. Give the case an inspection number like any other inspection. We did that about 10 years ago in Kansas when trying to conduct inspections at producers nobody had been to before or had been a very long time. It still counts as a completed PEI.

Mike and Shawn,

Eric Fuentes-Ruiz has found out that one of his assigned PEIs is no longer doing business in Nebraska. Champion Technologies was located in Lebanon, NE, and has been closed, now operates only out of Hays, KS as Nalco-Champion. Do you want me to pick another company for this one, or submit a memo stating we tried and found it closed and still count the bean as a PEI?
